

Summer Course - team contract

Version 2021-08-08 Kjeld Jensen <kjen@mmmi.sdu.dk>, original concept by Jørgen Bro Rønn

The purpose of this exercise is to write a contract between the participants in the project team. The contract will represent what has been agreed upon with respect to the list below. The list is not necessarily complete though, so you may consider to add other topics.

Group 1 – Christoffer, Balder and Svend

- What are your expectations for this project?

To make a working project, and deliver on time.

- What is your level of ambition?

We share a high level of ambition for the project, while still allowing time for other courses.

- How much time are you willing to invest in the project?

The time it takes. Within reason. We would rather work within regular school hours than at home, but if necessary it can happen.

- How much time do you expect the other team members to invest in the project?

Since it's a group project, we would like to work together as much as possible, but of course leaving space for "life".

- How should the work be shared between the team members?

Shared as equally as possible, while making sure everyone is included. Even if work is divided.

- Should the team select a team leader or not?

No.

- How should the team make decisions?

Through discussion and listening.

- What should be the normal working hours for the team?

During the lab session, and mornings the following week to finish up missing work. At home if urgent or necessary.

- What should a team member do if he does not show up one day (legal absence)?

Communicate it.

- What are the consequences of a team member not performing his tasks?

Nothing major, we are all friends. Maybe cake.

- What are your concerns regarding the project?

Time and 5 other courses that need a lot of work.

- What are your expectations regarding communication within the team (email, sms etc.)?

Messenger, Discord.

- Are there any other topics which you think should be included in the contract?

No

Exercise part 2

- The team selects a meeting leader and a secretary.

No meeting leader, or secretary.

- The meeting leader will then go through the topics one by one, allowing each team member to explain his expectations. It is important that everyone knows the opinion of the other team members. When everybody has given their explanation the team will have to conclude what should be in the team contract. The secretary writes up the contract.

- It is the responsibility of the secretary to publish the contract, so it is available to all team members and to submit a copy via itslearning.
